

Wall Street Reporter interviews the CEO of Excel Maritime (EXM)

New York – August 29, 2005. Christopher Georgakis, the CEO of Excel Maritime Carriers (EXM) is featured today in an interview with Killian Brandon the Senior Editor of Wall Street Reporter.

Mr. Georgakis discusses the outlook of the dry bulk shipping sector, as well as the development and prospects of Excel Maritime Carriers.

The interview is available on the website of Wall Street Reporter, at www.wallstreetreporter.com and will be accessible there until Friday, September 2nd, 2005.

About Excel Maritime Carriers Ltd

The Company is an owner and operator of dry bulk carriers and a provider of worldwide seaborne transportation services for dry bulk cargoes, such as iron ore, coal and grains, as well as bauxite, fertilizers and steel products. The company's current fleet consists of 18 vessels (one Capesize, ten Panamax and seven Handymax vessels) with a total carrying capacity of 1,112,070 dwt. The Company was incorporated in 1988 and its common stock is listed on the American Stock Exchange (AMEX) since 1998, trading under the symbol EXM. For more information about the company, please go to its corporate website www.excelmaritime.com

Provided by Capital Link, Inc.

For further information please contact Nicolas Bornozis at Capital Link, tel. (212) 661-7566 E-mail nbornozis@capitallink.com

Capital Link is a financial communications and investor relations company, which services several listed companies, including Excel Maritime Carriers.

Disclaimer:

The information presented in this document is for information purposes only. It was prepared based on information sources we believe to be reliable, but we make no representation as to the accuracy or completeness of the information contained therein. Reference of the above material does not imply its endorsement or concurrence with such information, conclusions or recommendations and Capital Link and/or its clients cannot be held responsible in anyway for these. This document is not to be construed as investment advice of any kind or as an offer to buy, sell or in any way transact in any security.

SOURCE: Excel Maritime via Capital Link